DANGEROUS GROUND.

Father?
Yes, my child.

Is it more blessed to give than to receive?
Yes, my son.

That means we receive more joy from giving gifts than from receiving them?

Surely.
Then when we give things, it is so we can receive more joy, isn't it?

Y-e-s.
Then we are really watching out all the time for what we are to receive aren't we?

Look at that clock, child! You should have been in bed half an hour ago!

WHAT HE APPRECIATED.

"I have never owned any automobiles," said the man who hadn't yet paid for his home, "but I can say one thing in praise of them."
"What's that?" inquired Henderson.
"They have made mortgages respectable."—Judge.

WHEN GASOLINE RUNS LOW.

In Farm and Fireside is an ingenious suggestion for motorists whose gasoline has run so low that they have trouble in hill climbing.

"One sometimes is caught out with a low supply of gasoline through having to make long detours to avoid bad roads or from other causes. The supply can be made to stretch over this emergency by adding denatured alcohol or kerosene. Occasionally there is sufficient gasoline for the ordinary level road, but not enough for an unexpected hill.

"In this case the principle of pressure feed can be applied. Screw the cap down tight on the gasoline tank, and then sharpen a match to fit the ventilating hole in the cap. Blow into this hole as hard as possible and immediately plug with a sharpened match. Usually this will enable the driver to make the hill without further trouble. But if not, he can turn the car around and back up hill."

IN RE CONGRESSIONAL RACE;

WHO WAS THE BIG STATESMAN?

(Franklin Press.)

In another column of this issue of the Press will be found the announcement of Hon. Zeb Weaver, of Asheville, for the Democratic nomination for congress from this district.

Before we commit ourselves to Mr. Weaver, we, as well as the people of Macon county, would like to know what part he took if any, while in the State Senate last winter in bringing about the repeal of the charter of the railroad and then killing all hope this county has ever had of an outlet to the North, or of ever getting a through line of railroad built through our county.

Gossip is always short-lived, except when properly ventilated.

The stronger a man's love for liquor the greater his weakness.

Take the consequences—if you are entitled to them.

Instead of trying to dodge temptation some people worry because it dodges them.

Time improves most things, except women; they, of course, have been perfect from the beginning.

Advice is about the only thing the average man will give freely without money and without price.

A magazine poet says: "It is hard to be poor." Well perhaps it is, but we always imagined it was easy to be a poor magazine poet.

NEW TRANSPORT TO BE NAMED AFTER ARCHIBALD HENDERSON

Secretary Daniels to Honor Memory of Famous Brevet Brigadier General Commandant; First Namesake in Congress From N. C.

(H. E. C. Bryant in News & Observer.)

Washington, Dec. 12.—Transport No. 1, of the United States Navy, will be named after Brevet Brigadier General Commandant Archibald Henderson, who was born in Virginia in 1785 and appointed second lieutenant in the Marine Corps in 1806.

Major Henderson was a man of ability, courage and judgment. Secretary Daniels is glad to honor his memory in such a fitting way.

The name of Archibald Henderson has come down through a long line of distinguished persons.

Dr. Henderson, of the State University at Chapel Hill, bears the given name of "Archibald."

The first Henderson in Congress from North Carolina was born in Granville county, but moved to Rowan after he was grown. His name was "Archibald."

The Archibald Henderson for whom the navy transport is to be named, was promoted to captain April 1, 1811, and was ordered to the frigate President in 1812. In August, 1812, he was breveted to major.

Major Henderson was ordered to the frigate Constitution in 1815, and served on that ship when she captured the British vessel Cyane and Levant. He was especially mentioned in the report of that action.

In 1820 Major Henderson was appointed lieutenant colonel commandant.

May 1, 1836, the President of the United States directed that all the marines be withdrawn from their respective stations and go via New York, Norfolk, Charleston and Augusta, to Fort Mitchell for active duty with the army in the field against hostile Indians. Major Henderson served with great distinction in that campaign and took part in the battle of Hatcher-Lustee.

Major Henderson assumed command of the Marine Corps at Washington June 22, 1834, and March 4, 1843, he was commissioned brigadier general by brevet to rank from January 27, 1837 for gallant and meritorious service while in command of the marines during the campaign against hostile Indians.

In 1857, during a riot in Washington, General Henderson distinguished himself for bravery. He marched to the muzzle of a cannon the rioters had loaded and were threatening to discharge into the marines and urged the crowd to disperse, but in vain. After a sharp, fierce encounter the rioting citizens were dispersed. While directing the attack on the rioters General Henderson was fired upon several times.

General Henderson served as commandant of the Marine Corps from June 22, 1837, to January 6, 1859, the day of his death, at the Marine Barracks, Washington.

Some girl descendant of General Henderson will act as sponsor at the unveiling of the Navy Transport, No. 1.

CATAWBA COUNTY AS AN EXAMPLE OF CO-OPERATION.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Dec. 18.—The model co-operative county in North Carolina is Catawba. The people of that county have not only waked up to the possibilities which may be obtained through co-operation, but they have gone to work with so much spirit that they have won the honor of being ranked as the finest model of co-operation in the South. Co-operation among the farmers may be divided into three general classes: co-operative production, co-operative marketing, and co-operative societies for banking. The farmers of Catawba county have developed each of these to some extent.

The first step towards co-operation taken by the Catawba county folk was the founding of The Catawba Co-operative Creamery in 1910. The total investments in this creamery was only $1200. When the business began, the number of patrons was 38. The first month's operation produced sales of butter to the amount of $940. Three thousand pounds of butter were made during the month. By the end of the first year the amount paid to the patrons had reached $14,868. The second year witnessed a marked increase both in the number of patrons and in the amount of business. The amount paid out for butter fat this year was $22,015. The Creamery Company was incorporated in 1912 with an authorized capital stock of $50,000. It was, and still is, a requirement of the company that at all times 75 per cent of the stock must be owned by the farmers. At the present time only ten shares are held by others than farmers.

The great success of the creamery could not fail to impress the farmers of Catawba county with the importance of co-operative enterprises; and, as they have hastened to form other such associations. In 1913 the Catawba County Sweet Potato Growers Association was organized with a membership of 60. The Association had three purposes in organizing: first, to increase the production of sweet potatoes; second, to improve their quality; and third, to standardize the package for their shipment. The Association has been growing steadily and is meeting a long-felt need in Catawba county.

But the Catawba county farmers do not limit their co-operation to enterprises merely for the sale of their products; he also applies the principle of co-operation to the supplies that he purchases. In order to supply this need the Farmers' Union Warehouse company was incorporated in 1913 with an authorized capital stock of $25,000. This warehouse is a wholesale warehouse for all the farmers in the county. It handles such articles as fertilizers, seeds, implements, wagons, buggies, and harness. The farmer's produce may be also marketed through the warehouse. Last year the warehouse did a $2500 business.

More instances of improvement might be cited. But what has been shown should be enough to convince the most sceptical that the county has greatly improved, and that the most powerful single influence in bringing about this improvement has been the practical operation of the principle of co-operation in the various farming industries of the county.
